More Information

The American Academy of Family Physicians and World Health Organization both recognize that Primary Care can address 80–90% of a person’s healthcare needs over a lifetime. Yet today, limited access and long wait times are pushing many patients toward urgent care and emergency rooms for issues that should be handled in a primary care setting.

Join us for this seminar to learn how Delphi Enhanced Primary Care is redefining access, elevating the patient experience, and delivering more affordable, effective healthcare.
